For a printer is quintessentially a “worker intellectual or an intellectual worker”, the very ideal of that human type who would become the pivot of socialism: “the conscious proletarian”.

Régis Debray
“Socialism: A Life-Cycle”,
New Left Review 46 (2007)